Locations:

Eleuthera, Bahamas (November 25-30, 2009): Our Bahamas adventure will be an all around island style vacation focused on staying wet and having fun. The island of Eleuthera offers unlimited adventure for anyone who enjoys the ocean and the many activities it offers. Our days will be spent in or on the water enjoying whatever the conditions may bring. Possible activities include but are not limited to: Skimboarding, surfing, rail skimming, fishing, boating, snorkeling, spear fishing, exploring, relaxing, and simply enjoying an amazing island. This trip is our most unique adventure since it offers such diverse options for each day. It is a great opportunity to experience another culture and have a well-rounded vacation.

Cabo San Lucas, Mexico (March 8-13, 2010) : Cabo is an obvious location for an Alley-Oop Adventure trip for one reason; it is one of the best places, if not the best place, to skim in the world. Located on the southern most tip of the Baja Peninsula, Cabo is a tourist friendly area with great restaurants, shopping, and nightlife. There are a number of spots we will visit to provide you with the best Cabo experience including Lovers and Solmar beaches. The Cabo Adventures are scheduled during Cabo's spring break which provides its own element of fun, excitement and a great chance for waves. This trip is your best opportunity to skim and get waves everyday. The weather in Cabo is warm all year long, so be sure to bring your sunscreen and umbrella to this adventure.

Laguna Beach, CA (April 6-10, 2010): The Laguna Adventure is open to ages 13 to 18. This Adventure trip is a great way to skim where it all started. Laguna Beach, the birthplace and heart of skimboarding, is located in Southern California and is home to a number of world-class skim breaks. The Adventure's main focus is to skim with a group of friends during Laguna's south-swell summer season and get pointers from Paulo and Jason while doing so. Other possible activities include surfing, skateboarding, and flowriding. Whether or not it's your first time to Laguna, let Alley-Oop Adventures show you Laguna's unique coastline and variety of skimable breaks.
